

PAT CAMP

DEVELOPER – PROJECT MANAGER

I've expanded my technical competencies to include web app development using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Ruby and Ruby on Rails. I have a keen interest in pairing these new skills with my experience in marketing, communications and project management with a new position or project.

I'm a natural organizer and problem solver. I get the big picture and can drill down to the details. Equally comfortable in customer forward-facing roles or working independently, I am confident I can contribute to your business objectives in meaningful ways.
